

EXHIBIT A

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF IOWA
CENTRAL DIVISION

PAUL GERLICH and ERIN FURLEIGH,

Plaintiff(s), vs.

STEVEN LEATH, WARREN MADDEN,
THOMAS HILL, and LEESHA
ZIMMERMAN,

Defendant(s).

No. 4:14-CV-264

DECLARATION OF
ROBERT CORN-REVERE
IN SUPPORT OF PLAINTIFFS' MOTION
FOR ATTORNEY'S FEES AND COSTS

I, Robert Corn-Revere, declare as follows:

1. I am a partner in the Washington, D.C. office of the law firm Davis Wright Tremaine LLP ("DWT"). Since May 2014, I have represented Plaintiffs-Appellees Paul Gerlich and Erin Furleigh in this litigation. I was the partner in charge of supervising the litigation effort.

2. Mr. Gerlich and Ms. Furleigh's claims raised complex constitutional issues that supported selecting an out-of-district law firm that specializes in such cases.

3. DWT agreed to accept Mr. Gerlich and Ms. Furleigh's case because of the important constitutional issues it presented.

4. For close to four years, attorneys at DWT represented Mr. Gerlich and Ms. Furleigh before this Court and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit with the same degree of zealous representation as for all firm clients. These efforts resulted in summary judgment in Mr. Gerlich and Ms. Furleigh's favor, finding that the Defendants had violated their right to free expression through the imposition of viewpoint discrimination. The Eighth Circuit issued a ruling affirming this court's finding.

Attorneys Included in the Fee Request

5. The instant petition for attorney's fees requests payment for services rendered by three attorneys and one legal assistant from DWT. It also requests fees for local counsel Michael Giudicessi. The DWT personnel include Robert Corn-Revere, Ronald London, Marni Shapiro, and Lisa Zycherman.

6. Robert Corn-Revere, Partner, DWT. I am an experienced constitutional law litigator with a national reputation who has argued numerous cases in various U.S. District Courts, Circuit Courts of Appeal, and the United States Supreme Court. I have been a member of the District of Columbia Bar since 1983, and formerly served as Chief Counsel to Chairman James H. Quello of the Federal Communications Commission. I have written extensively on First Amendment, Internet and communications-related issues and have provided expert testimony before numerous congressional committees and the FCC. I am co-author of the three-volume treatise Modern Communications Law, published by West Publishing Company, was a member of the Editorial Advisory Board of Pike & Fischer's Internet Law and Regulation, and I am on the Advisory Board for the First Amendment Salon. From 1987 to 2001, I taught First Amendment and media law at the Communications Law Institute of the Columbus School of Law at Catholic University of America. I am a member and former chairman of the Media Institute's First Amendment Advisory Council, and have been an Adjunct Scholar to the Cato Institute in Washington, D.C. for over twenty years. From 2000-2002, I served on the Board of Trustees of the Freedom to Read Foundation, an affiliate of the American Library Association. I am a past President and National Chairman of the First Amendment Lawyers Association, and have been an officer and Board member since 2010. My DWT web biography is annexed as Attachment 1.

7. Ronald London, Of Counsel, DWT. Mr. London has been has been a member of the Maryland Bar since 1995, and the District of Columbia Bar since 1997. He practices media and communications law, with a focus on content regulation and privacy, in a variety of contexts. He began his legal career as an associate in the mass media practice at the communications boutique Pepper & Corazzini, LLP (since merged into Womble Carlyle Sandridge & Rice, PPLC), and then in the communications practice of Hunton and Williams LLP, before arriving at Hogan and Hartson and moving with me to Davis Wright Tremaine LLP. He has focused on representing clients in litigation and administrative law matters that involve First Amendment and related interests. This has included serving as counsel challenging a variety of unconstitutional actions taken against protestors, students, and others, and in court challenges to the constitutionality of federal and state laws. He, too, is an officer of the First Amendment Lawyers Association. His DWT biography is annexed as Attachment 2.

8. Lisa Zycherman, Associate, DWT. Lisa Zycherman has been a member of the Maryland Bar since 2004, and of the District of Columbia Bar since 2005. She advises and represents reporters, publishers, technology companies, and advocacy non-profit organizations on a wide range of issues in media, First Amendment, and intellectual property law, and has represented individual clients in First Amendment civil rights cases under Section 1983. Ms. Zycherman regularly represents coalitions of media amici in cases affecting First Amendment matters before U.S. Courts of Appeal and the U.S. Supreme Court. She is a committee chairperson for the Media Law Resource Center, a sub-committee chairperson for the ABA Forum on Communications Law, and serves on the Board of the Council for Court Excellence, a non-profit organization focused on enhancing the justice system in the District of Columbia. Her DWT web biography is annexed as Attachment 3.

9. Marni Shapiro, Paralegal, DWT. Ms. Shapiro is a 1976 graduate of Georgetown University who has more than 35 years of experience as a paralegal in the communications field. Her DWT web biography is annexed as Attachment 4.

Time Reasonably Billed to the Case

10. In this case, attorneys and legal professionals at DWT have devoted 1,124.4 hours for which fees are sought in the instant motion. The hours recorded for DWT attorneys and paralegals are current as of December 31, 2017, and exclude time devoted to work on Defendants' Eighth Circuit appeal, which has already been compensated by order of that court.

11. The time detail records of DWT personnel are annexed hereto as Attachment 5. As a standard practice, DWT attorneys and paralegals keep daily time diaries that are entered in the firm's billing system as computerized records ("pro forma statements"). The pro forma statements list the date service was rendered, the lawyer or paralegal code, the amount of time billed in 1/10 hour increments, the amount to be billed based on billing rates, a brief description of service rendered, and other administrative information. In a standard billing arrangement, the pro forma statements are used as the raw data from which final bills are generated. The responsible attorney for a given client typically reviews the pro forma and exercises billing judgment before sending out a final bill to exclude time incorrectly billed or to modify the amounts to eliminate unproductive or inefficient efforts. The final bill that is normally sent to a client does not show the entries that are deleted during the pro forma review process but instead includes an invoice that shows the billing detail for the amounts actually charged.

12. Attachment 5 shows all time entries made by all timekeepers who devoted any effort at all on Mr. Gerlich and Ms. Furleigh's behalf in this case. All time entries that are excluded from the instant fee request are indicated by striking through the time to be deleted, but Attachment 5 retains the original fee calculation for each entry at applicable billing rates. Attachment 5 shows that a raw, unedited total of 1,147.10 hours were recorded by all DWT personnel on this case between May 2014, and December 2017, excluding time spent on the Eighth Circuit appeal.

13. However, after the exercise of billing judgment, the instant fee petition seeks reimbursement only for 1,124.4 hours billed by DWT personnel. Attachment 6 is a clean version of Attachment 5, reflecting deleted hours and narrative removed. It shows a total of 1,124.4 hours requested in the instant fee petition, totaling $569,346.60 in attorney fees.

14. No time is included in the instant fee request for attorneys who had only a peripheral role in this litigation, for solely administrative matters, or for issues that involved purely client maintenance. In addition, I deleted time entries for time that I deemed to be unproductively spent or that I believed did not assist the client. These types of billing decisions are the same as those typically applied to pro forma statements, however, for purposes of this fee request I erred on the conservative side by deleting more time than for typical paying clients.

Costs and Expenses Reasonably Incurred in the Case

15. Thus far, DWT has incurred $27,349.62 in costs and expenses relating to this litigation for which reimbursement is sought in the instant motion. The costs and expenses recorded for DWT is current as of December 31, 2017, and excludes costs already awarded by the Eighth Circuit.

16. Between May 2014 and December 2017, DWT incurred costs and expenses for a variety of goods and services necessary to litigating the case. These include costs for shipping discovery materials, firm litigation services during the discovery phase, court reporters, and travel associated with taking depositions and court appearances. Although other types of travel and other charges were incurred, such as for meals, copy costs, etc., those costs have not been included in this request as explained for fully in paragraph 19, infra.

17. The cost detail records for DWT are annexed hereto as Attachment 7. As a standard business practice, DWT attorneys and staff submit receipts of costs they pay on behalf of a client, and costs incurred internally are maintained by automated and manual systems by the firm's copy center, fax room, travel department, etc. All costs are recorded in the firm's billing system as pro forma statements, where they are assigned a "cost code" based on the type of expense incurred. These pro forma statements typically list the date a cost or expense was incurred, its cost code, a brief description of the cost or expense, the amount thereof, and other administrative information. In a standard billing arrangement, the pro forma statements are used as the raw data from which final bills are generated. The responsible attorney for a given client typically reviews the pro forma and exercises billing judgment before sending out a final bill to exclude costs and expenses incorrectly billed or to modify the amounts to eliminate unnecessary charges. The final bill that is normally sent to a client does not show the entries that are deleted during the pro forma review process but instead includes an invoice that shows the billing detail for the amounts actually charged.

18. The pro forma statements were reviewed in an exercise of billing judgment for the preparation of the instant motion for fees. All entries that are excluded from the instant request are indicated in Attachment 7 by striking through the item to be deleted. Attachment 7 shows that a raw, unedited total of $30,775.72 was recorded by DWT on this case between May 2014 and December 2017, excluding time spent on the Eighth Circuit appeal. However the instant fee motion seeks reimbursement for only $27,349.62 in costs and expenses.

19. Costs and expenses were deleted from the total claim through the exercise of more conservative billing judgment than might have been applied to a typical case for a paying client. For example, no overtime for firm staff is included in the instant request, and other internal labor costs typically billed to client accounts, such as for word processing services, have been excluded. In addition, all meals partaken during work and while on travel for the case were excluded, as were all long distance charges. Although these exclusions are stricter than what may be required by DWT's respective clients, they were applied here to remove any doubt about the reasonableness of the costs and expenses incurred.

Billing Rates

20. The billing rates shown in Attachment 5 reflect the following hourly rates: Robert Corn-Revere ($692); Ronald London ($563); Lisa Zycherman ($440); Marni Shapiro ($302).

21. The hourly rates applied to this case are 13-17% less than the market rates that DWT personnel currently bill to their paying clients. Rates for DWT counsel for 2018 are $795 for Mr. Corn-Revere, $655 for Mr. London, $530 for Ms. Zycherman, and $360 for Ms. Shapiro. These rates were reduced in an exercise of billing judgment to more closely align with the rates for attorneys at similar-sized firms in the jurisdiction where this case arose. Such historic billing rates for DWT counsel are considered just below the market rate for counsel at similar-sized law firms in Washington, D.C.

22. The billing rates shown in Attachment 5 and described in this declaration are also supported by the annual survey of billing rates among the nation's 250 largest law firms conducted by the National Law Journal. A copy of the 2014 annual survey, the most recent survey available to DWT, is annexed hereto as Attachment 8.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Representative Experience

Abbott v. Pastides

Representing a student and two student groups in an action challenging a number of University of South Carolina policies, including a free speech zone policy that restricts student speech to a few areas of campus and requires that students register in advance before they can exercise their First Amendment rights. The lawsuit also challenges USC's Student Non-Discrimination and Non-Harassment Policy, a vague and overbroad restriction that prohibits "unwelcome" speech and "suggestive or insulting gestures or sounds." (D.S.C. Ongoing)

Sanders v. Guzman

Represented Blinn College student who was instructed by university official that she and her friends would need "special permission" to display political signs on campus, and to remain within the college's "free speech zone" if she wanted to demonstrate. As part of the settlement agreement, Blinn College agreed to revise restrictive policies targeted in the lawsuit to comply with the First Amendment. Blinn also agreed to pay student Nicole Sanders $50,000 for damages and attorney's fees. (W.D. Tex. 2016)

Tomas v. Coley

Represented student at California Polytechnic State University, Pomona who was stopped by campus police from handing out flyers without a "permit" outside the campus "free speech zone." University agreed to settlement that obligated it to revise restrictive speech codes challenged in the lawsuit and pay $35,000 in damages and attorneys' fees. (C.D. Cal. 2015)

Jergins v. Williams

Represented students at Dixie State University in First Amendment challenge to unconstitutional enforcement of a "free speech zone" and to policies that impose prior restraints on students' speech. Students further allege that the university refused to approve promotional flyers produced by the Young Americans for Liberty (YAL) student group that featured images negatively portraying Presidents George W. Bush and Barack damages and attorneys' fees. (C.D. Cal. 2015)

Gerlich v. Leath

Representing Iowa State University student members of the university chapter of the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws (NORML ISU) challenging the University adoption and enforcement of policies that unconstitutionally restrict the group's ability to engage in political advocacy through license of university trademarks for t-shirts and other apparel. Motion for summary judgment partially granted. Gerlich v. Leath, 152 F.Supp.3d 1152 (S.D. Iowa 2016), aff'd, 847 F.3d 1005 (8th Cir. 2017), amended & superseded, --- F.3d --, 2017 WL 2543363 (8th Cir. June 13, 2017)

Sinapi-Riddle v. Citrus Community College District

Represented student who was threatened with removal from campus for asking a fellow student to sign a petition outside the College's restrictive "free speech area." Obtained $110,000 settlement under which College agreed to revise its policies to permit free expression in all open areas of campus and to adopt a definition of harassment that complies with the First Amendment. (C.D. Cal. 2014)

Beverly v. Watson

Representing two professors in action seeking relief from unconstitutional speech policies at Chicago State University and an order enjoining administrators from continuing efforts to shut down the professors' blog, which is often critical of the University's administration. Motion to dismiss denied, Beverly v. Watson, 78 F.Supp.3d 717 (N.D. Ill. 2015) (N.D. Ill., Ongoing)

Smith v. McDavis

Ohio University settled with student after he and fellow student group members were ordered by administrators not to wear a t-shirt advertising their student defense service featuring the phrase "We get you off for free." In settlement, University adopted new policies to adopt a definition of harassment that complies with the First Amendment and paid student $32,000. (S.D. Ohio 2015)

Kalamazoo Peace Center v. Dunn

Western Michigan University settled with nonprofit student organization and its two co-directors in civil rights action against university administrators who demanded that the organization pay a hefty and arbitrary security fee before hosting rapper and social activist at annual event. Jergins v. Williams

Represented students at Dixie State University in First Amendment challenge to unconstitutional enforcement of a "free speech zone" and to policies that impose prior restraints on students' speech. Students further allege that the university refused to approve promotional flyers produced by the Young Americans for Liberty (YAL) student group that featured images negatively portraying Presidents George W. Bush and Barack Obama, and Che Guevara because school policy does not permit students to "disparage" or "mock individuals." University agreed to revise restrictive speech policies and pay $50,000 in damages and attorneys' fees. (D. Utah 2015)

Burch v. University System of Hawaii

Represented students in civil rights lawsuit claiming denial of their right to hand out literature, the unconstitutionality of the university's "free speech zone," and the failure of university officials to adequately train administrators on the rights of college students. Resulted in settlement under which the entire University of Hawaii system agreed to revise its policies to allow free speech in open areas across all campuses and to pay plaintiffs $50,000. (D. Haw. 2014)

Representative Experience

Abbott v. Pastides

Representing a student and two student groups in an action challenging a number of University of South Carolina policies, including a free speech zone policy that restricts student speech to a few areas of campus and requires that students register in advance before they can exercise their First Amendment rights. The lawsuit also challenges USC's Student Non-Discrimination and Non-Harassment Policy, a vague and overbroad restriction that prohibits "unwelcoming" speech and "suggestive or insulting gestures or sounds." (D.S.C. Ongoing)

Beverly v. Watson

Representing two professors in action seeking relief from unconstitutional speech policies at Chicago State University and an order enjoining administrators from continuing efforts to shut down the professors' blog, which is often critical of the University's administration. Motion to dismiss denied, Beverly v. Watson, 78 F.Supp.3d 717 (N.D. Ill. 2015) (N.D. Ill., Ongoing)

Gerlich v. Leath

Representing Iowa State University student members of the university chapter of the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws (NORML ISU) challenging the University adoption and enforcement of policies that unconstitutionally restrict the group's ability to engage in political advocacy through license of university trademarks for t-shirts and other apparel. Motion for summary judgment partially granted. Gerlich v. Leath, 152 F.Supp.3d 1152 (S.D. Iowa 2016), aff'd, 847 F.3d 1005 (8th Cir. 2017), amended & superseded, --- F.3d ---, 2017 WL 2543363 (8th Cir. June 13, 2017)

Resolute Forest Products, Inc. et al. v. Greenpeace International, et al.

Representing Greenpeace in defamation and nominal RICO action brought by forestry company arising from Greenpeace's speech about the impact of company's activities on the environment. Successfully moved to transfer case from federal court in Georgia to California; motion to dismiss and motion to strike under anti-SLAPP statute are pending. (S.D. Ga. 2016; N.D. Cal. 2017)

Watkins v. CNN, et al.

Representing cable news network and its reporter in libel and false light suit arising from CNN online news article and social media posts, titled "Behind Trump's 'job interview' with Alicia Watkins." Lawsuit is brought by a veteran whose appearance at a Trump presidential campaign rally sparked controversy when the candidate engaged her in an impromptu job interview. (D. Md. Ongoing)

Westminster Mgmt., LLC*, 2018 WL 572867 (D. Md. Jan. 26, 2018)

Watkins v. The Washington Post et al.

Successfully defended newspaper and its reporters in libel, false light, and intentional infliction of emotional distress suit arising from three Washington Post articles, including "What was with that random woman who got a job interview at Trump's news conference?" Lawsuit was brought by a veteran whose appearance at a Trump presidential campaign rally sparked controversy. All claims dismissed with prejudice. Watkins v. The Washington Post, 2018 WL 805394 (D. Md. Feb. 9, 2018)

Montgomery v. Risen et al.

Represented Pulitzer-Prize winning journalist James Risen and his publisher, Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Publishing Company, in libel suit brought by Dennis Montgomery, a former U.S. military contractor in suit arising from reporting in the book "Pay Any Price: Greed, Power and Endless War." Plaintiff claimed to invent software that could read coded messages on Al Jazeera broadcasts instructing terrorists where to attack next. Successfully obtained summary judgment of all claims in district court, which observed "[t]he twists and turns of this case could fill the pages of a book. In fact, much of it already has." Montgomery v. Risen, 197 F. Supp. 3d 219 (D.D.C. 2016). Judgment affirmed on appeal holding Montgomery failed to demonstrate Risen's statements were false. Montgomery v. Risen, 875 F.3d 709 (D.C. Cir. 2017)

Von Kahl v. The Bureau of National Affairs

Represented The Bureau of National Affairs (BNA) in interlocutory appeal of district court's denial of summary judgment to BNA and the court's ruling on actual malice. Obtained D.C. Circuit decision reversing district court and holding inaccuracy of publication alone does not constitute sufficient evidence of actual malice to overcome summary judgment. Von Kahl v. Bureau of National Affairs, Inc., --- F.3d ---, 2017 WL 1842511 (D.C. Cir. May 9, 2017)

Buchanan v. Alexander

Representing professor in civil rights action to strike down unconstitutional enforcement of Louisiana State University sexual harassment policy, pursuant to which she was fired for occasional use of profanity. The challenged policy mirrors "blueprint" language proposed by the U.S. Departments of Education and Justice. Professor also seeks reinstatement to her position as a tenured professor. (M.D. La. Ongoing)

Sanders v. Guzman

Represented Blinn College student who was instructed by university official that she and her friends would need "special permission" to display political signs on campus, and to remain within the college's "free speech zone" if she wanted to demonstrate. As part of the settlement agreement, Blinn College agreed to revise restrictive policies targeted in the lawsuit to comply with the First Amendment. Blinn also agreed to pay student Nicole Sanders $50,000 for damages and attorney's fees. (W.D. Tex. 2016)

Dariano v. Morgan Hill Unified School District

Submitted amicus brief on behalf of Mary Beth Tinker and John Tinker in support of petitioner urging reversal of 9th Circuit decision allowing school officials to prevent students from engaging in silent, passive expression of opinion because other students might react negatively to the message, which was contrary to the Court's holding in the landmark opinion Tinker v. Des Moines Independent Community School District, 393 U.S. 503 (1969). (U.S. 2015)

Jergins v. Williams

Represented students at Dixie State University in First Amendment challenge to unconstitutional enforcement of a "free speech zone" and to policies that impose prior restraints on students' speech. Students further allege that the university refused to approve promotional flyers produced by the Young Americans for Liberty (YAL) student group that featured images negatively portraying Presidents George W. Bush and Barack

Obama, and Che Guevara because school policy does not permit students to "disparage" or "mock individuals." University agreed to revise restrictive speech policies and pay $50,000 in damages and attorneys' fees. (D. Utah 2015)

Kalamazoo Peace Center v. Dunn

Western Michigan University settled with nonprofit student organization and its two co-directors in civil rights action against university administrators who demanded that the organization pay a hefty and arbitrary security fee before hosting rapper and social activist at annual event. In settlement, University adopted new policies to comply with the First Amendment and pay $35,000 in damages and attorneys' fees (W.D. Mich. 2015)

Prison Legal News v. Samuels

2014 NLJ Billing Survey

Source:National Law Journal

Category: National Law Journal

ALM Legal Intelligence, in association with The National Law Journal, reached out to the nation's 350 largest law firms (the "NLJ 350") to provide a range of hourly billing rates for partners and associates. For firms that did not report their rates to ALI directly, in many cases we were able to supplement rate data derived from public records. For 2014, we have rates for 169 of the nation's 350 largest firms.
